About Me

Hi

I'm a front-end developer, seeking to work in a collaborative environment. I enjoy providing quality solutions for the web by using web technologies. I love to build modern & aesthetic websites of the most creative UI Designs.

My hobbies: Reading, helping & coding.

I am really looking forward for this role.

Experience

I have worked on Upwork as a freelance front-end developer for about a year & helped a lot of clients of creating a modern beautiful looking websites & helping them with coding mostly related to javascript.

During those days, I learned & gained a lot of experience in skills like how to negotiate & understand the needs of clients with having point-to-point effective communications.
